ABOUT ME

Learning by building

A little about me

I'm a first-year Computer Science student at Lovely Professional University. I'm developing my programming skills and exploring how software can solve everyday problems.

My current focus is learning the fundamentals, practising consistently, and turning what I learn into small projects. My longer-term interest is mobile app development.

My first project

I'm currently working on my first project. I'll add its name, purpose, tools, screenshots, and what I learned here when it is ready to share.

Next: complete a working version, document it, and publish the code in a GitHub repository.
